

South African Bridge Federation

Congress 2016

Daily Bulletin # 5

Tuesday 17 May

Lectures on the Patio

The lectures on the Patio, incorporating Q & A sessions and an analysis of bidding and play, held on the Hotel Patio at lunch-times, continue as follows:

To-day, Tuesday by Tim Cope

No lecture on Wednesday!

Thursday by Chris Bosenberg

There's no place like Home!

Warren: "I get a really bad headache after a long bridge tournament".

Jim: "Do what I do. I lay my head on my wife's bosom, and the headache goes away.

Cut to the next day.

Jim: "Did you do what I told you to do?"

Warren: "Of course, and it works! By the way, you have a really nice house!"

The Yanks are here!

Former Johannesburger, Ora Lourie, now resident in Florida [no, not the suburb on the West Rand] but rather the State in the snowbird country north of Miami in the south-eastern corner of the United States, is pictured here with her Team USA:

Bob Jones, a fellow Floridian, Virginia Swift from Alabama and Joe Barbary, originally a New Yorker. Virginia and Joe are frequent visitors to the winter warmth of the Sunshine State, and all four are very keen, and pretty good, bridge players as their results at Congress attest! Great to have you, and your welcome dollars, in the Lowveld. Oh yes, I wonder why they are so vehement when they bid ONE NO TRUMP!

CONVENTION CARD

Each partner must have an identically completed Convention Card!

On Wednesday 18 May, the starting time for Session 3 has been brought forward to 0900, finishing by 1300, to allow you to book a game drive into the Kruger National Park.

The Leader Board

Monday evening and all nine qualifying rounds are now behind us. Congratulations to the top two in each section who go forward to contest the very prestigious Championship section. All the final standings are
